WIFE OF REPUBLICAN PRESIDENTIAL NOMINEE.

MRS. WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

Copyright by Campbell Studio.

There is too much of interest to Washington, in the scenes being enacted in its sister city and the further away metropolis on the lake shore to admit of any but quite informal and very personal entertaining for this week-end.

In fact, even though the flag floats merrily over the White House, which indicates that the President is there, there is little of social interest right here. The city is not deserted by any means, but is filled with an excited, anxious, and interested throng of men, women, and children, all with the one idea, that their favorite candidate must win. Scores of visitors to the great convention so close to Washington have their quarters in the comfortable hotels here, and will make the trip to Baltimore each day from now until the great question of the Democratic candidate is settled.

Many of the private houses will have large parties of guests all through the week, with entertainments sprinkled as thickly as they can be, through each day, for it is a question of business, next of pleasure. But politics is so closely interwoven with society in Washington that it is difficult to find the one without the other.

The daughter and elder son of the President go happily on with their festivities with no sign of the excitement everywhere else so apparent, of the action of the Western convention, which means so much to them. They are members of a particularly congenial little house party in Virginia for the week-end, and on their return here to-morrow will leave almost at once for their old home in Cincinnati, to partake of the festivities attending the wedding of their cousin, Miss Harriet Anderson, and Mr. Hugo de Pritsch.

An intensely interesting entertainment to Washingtonians was given recently in Paris in the artistic and instinctive Parisian home of Miss Natalie Barney, of this city, the gifted daughter of Mrs. Christian D. Hemmick. It was distinctively artistic in the most classic sense. Mrs. Barney, who is well known here as a Grecian dancer, gave one of her most beautiful performances in dancing and posing as a Greek maiden before the little Greek Temple in Miss Barney's garden, to the reading of the poems "Rene Vivian" of Miss Natalie Barney, the hostess. Mlle. Delvaux, of the Theatre Francaise, read the poems to a flute and harp accompaniment, which was in peculiar harmony with the graceful dancing of a beautiful young woman, and with the atmosphere of the verses. Other illustrations of the poems were given by "Collette," who represented a Faun, and Mlle. de Max recited. Mrs. Barney will be remembered in Mrs. Hemmick's splendid wordless play "On the Love of Echo," given with such artistic success here last season for charity.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

A lawn party will be given for the benefit of the new Young Woman's Christian Association Building Fund, by the Calvary Baptist Church of Camp Fire Girls, at Massachusetts Avenue and Ninth Streets Northwest, on Friday, June 28.

WEDDINGS-ENGAGEMENTS

An unusually pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Lemmen, 1338 W Street, when Ruth Caryne Lemmen and Grover Cleveland Glascock were married. The couple stood for the ceremony under an attractive arch of ferns and daisies. The dining-room was beautifully decorated with red roses. Mr. Charles Pennington played the wedding march. The bride wore a gown of white-silk messaline, trimmed in crystal braid and cluny lace. The mother of the bride wore gray silk. Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. G. Tracey, of New York; Mrs. K. C. Gore, Mr. Arthur Gore and Mr. Clarence Gore, from Baltimore, the latter of whom was best man; Mrs. Glascock, mother of the groom, from Marshall, Va. Mrs. Lillian Street was matron of honor. A small reception followed the wedding, after which the couple left for a short trip to New York and Atlantic City. Numerous handsome presents were received by the young couple from their many friends. After July 1, Mr. and Mrs. Glascock will be at home to their friends at 1338 W Street Northwest.

Mrs. Brunhilde Elizabeth Randall and Mr. John Blake Coffman were married on Wednesday afternoon, June 19, at 5 o'clock, at Epiphany Church, when a large crowd of relatives and friends were present. John I. Smith, of Baltimore, former pastor of Epworth Church. Daisies, ferns, and palms transformed the church into a bower, the teachers of the primary department of the Sunday school, of which the bride is one, doing the work of decorating. Eight children of the bride's class held the ribbons in the aisle through which she passed. Mrs. James J. Hufnagel, of Alexandria, cousin of the bride, played the wedding music, the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" for the entrance and the Mendelssohn "Wedding March" for the exit. The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, was becomingly gowned in French tulle and shadow lace, wore tulle veil caught with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley, preceded by the ushers, Messrs. Arthur and Carleton Guilford, Harry Brimer, and Joseph H. Comer.

The maid of honor, Miss Irene Demory, of Haymarket, Va., wore white with yellow ribbons and carried yellow roses. Little Elizabeth Guilford, sister of the bride, was flower girl. After the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride, after which the couple left on the 11:30 train for a Northern trip. The couple were the recipients of many handsome presents.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Lepper, of Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. F. Pickett and son, Miss Nellie Bell, Miss Rosie Shirley, Miss Hufnagel, and Mr. Henry S. Dodge, of Haymarket, and Miss Allison, of Alexandria.

The bride will have for her only attendant her sister, Miss Helen Wilcox, and immediately after the ceremony the bride and bridegroom will leave for a short honeymoon trip, to end in their new home in Birmingham.
